Concerns about Your Child's School Experience . . .

In any endeavor as complex as education, conflicts and misunderstandings will inevitably occur. If you have a problem or questions, the school district wants to work with you to get the issue resolved. We request that you use the following process to get your questions addressed: First contact your child's teacher. If the problem cannot be resolved, you have the option of contacting the building principal, then the superintendent of schools, and finally the school board. It has been our experience that most issues are satisfactorily and efficiently resolved by beginning with the teacher.
